

RISING STARS SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Brenda Jarmon

College of Social Work

Florida A&M University

By: Treméne Triplett, Institute for Successful Leadership, Inc.

It is with esteemed pleasure that the editors and staff of the International Journal of Ethnic College Health present Brenda Jarmon, PhD, as the Rising Stars Spotlight recipient for the Winter 2015 edition. Dr. Jarmon has been selected for her uncanny ability to overcome certain life obstacles to earn a doctorate degree in social work. For her service in one of the nation's most challenging health issues, teenage pregnancy prevention, and for her unique, demonstrated ability to earnestly reach college-attending emerging adult populations to pursue higher education, IJECH presents Jarmon as its revered Rising Star. Read her story of her undaunted spirit, unparalleled performance and unflinching commitment to serving vulnerable communities in both words and deeds.
